Leading wisely in an era of globalisation: Developing cultural intelligence

Keynote speaker: Dr Kirk Franklin

Dr Kirk Franklin has held significant executive roles, notably serving as the Wycliffe Global Alliance's Executive Director, overseeing a network of over 100 organisations. His career has taken him to 65 countries, often as a speaker, bringing a wealth of international experience to his work. In the process, he has led and worked under various types of culturally diverse teams and is active in the research area of Cultural Intelligence.

Event description

This engaging and interactive professional development event is designed to equip religious education teachers and chaplains with the essential cultural intelligence (CQ) skills needed to navigate the complexities of our increasingly globalised world. Participants will explore the significance of cultural understanding, and adapting to diverse cultural contexts, and gain practical insights into how we can link meaningful learning opportunities across RE programs in our schools.

When Monday 12 August 2024, Afternoon tea: 3.30 pm
Address by Dr Kirk Franklin 4.00–5.30 pm

The event is free to attend, but registration is required for catering purposes
